

Giants Want the Lost River By Jack Hillman ISBN 159507-191-1

When Eric Johnson moved from Philadelphia a year ago, he didn't have any friends in the Lehigh Valley. Now he had a lot of them, just not the usual sort for a twelve-year old boy. Aside from Tommy Kuhns and Stephanie Fuller-two young children his own age- Eric's house was often visited by Norse Gods, Rock Dwarves, Valkyr, and unfortunately the occasional Frost Giant. And most teens weren't caught up in a war that crossed multiple dimensions.

Now the Frost Giants were trying to get access to Enigma Caverns and the Lost River, so they could continue their battle against the Aesir and conquer the people of Earth as well. Eric, Tommy and Stephanie had to find out why the Giants really wanted the Lost River and stop the Giants from taking control of Enigma Caverns.

Then Eric is thrown into the Lost River and disappears, and things really get strange!

Follow the continuing saga of the Giant's War trilogy- a classic adventure of young children in amazing settings- and find out where the Lost River really comes out!

Jack Hillman

A lifelong Pennsylvania resident, Jack began a love of books sitting amid the mystery of hospitals and medical paraphernalia. Mythology of all cultures and a fascination with martial philosophies led to King Arthur, the knights of the round table and an array of science fiction and fantasy authors that had a strong impact on his life.

Real life got in the way of a writing career, but after thirty years in the life and medical insurance field, Jack took to writing again. Bolstered by a secondary career as a journalist, Jack has written on a wide variety of subjects and keeps his hand in medical and insurance matters on a daily basis while writing in multiple genres of fiction and fact.

He lives in eastern Pennsylvania with his supportive wife, a squad of feline editors, an exceedingly esoteric library and an array of edged weapons to inspire his works. More information about Jack can be found at www.JackHillman-Writer.com.
